A Touchstone Energy® Cooperative

Don't take my word for it!

IT'S EASY FOR ME to write to you each month about the wonderful things Santee Electric does because I love the cooperative model and I love the team here at SEC.

Since our last annual meeting, we have given our member-owners a chance to tell us how they feel about their cooperative through the I ♥ My Co-op campaign. I wanted to share the comments of four of our members in this month's column.

Jeanette Altman, Lake City

"Santee Electric has been a great partner, and the fact that they invest in economic development is crucial to our small part of this county as well as the state. Santee Electric supports scholarships for students and grants for teachers in the classroom, which shows they are supportive of education. Santee Electric is part of our community. The people that work there are our neighbors and our friends. If we ever call on them, they respond."

Deloris Cooper, Kingstree

"I love the way they respond when we have storms, and I love the way they appreciate us. The difference is the way they provide service.

"They have a program called Operation Round Up. I lost my central unit last winter, and it was really cold! I got in contact with one of the board members, and he told me about Operation Round Up. Within three or four weeks, I had another unit in my house that gave me heat and air."

Carolyn Lemmon, Kingstree

"The service has always been good. In the 50 years I've been with them, I've never had a problem. They upgraded my AC unit and did some insulation work (through the Help My House program). Even with the payment plan (for this work), my electric bill is less than it was prior to the work. I was surprised that the co-op helped me save that much money! Wonderful personalities. I mean, you can't beat them!"

Peggy Singletary, Kingstree

"They have made me a very happy customer by coming in and collaborating with the two programs together (Help My House and Operation Round Up) and helping me with my heating and cooling because my system went down. I have cut my bill as much as 66 percent, so it has helped me tremendously. It's been a pleasure!"

I truly appreciate these ladies for taking the time to offer us feedback. They hit on a lot of the passions we have at SEC. If you want to share your co-op story, visit SCLiving.coop/stories.

Have a great month and stay tuned next month for our Annual Meeting registration ticket. We hope to see you on April 16!

Q&A with District 32 Senator Ronnie A. Sabb

BY JOANNA ARNSMEYER

SENATOR RONNIE A. SABB has been a dedicated public servant his entire adult life, with a long history of serving the people of Williamsburg County.

In 1988, he was elected to the Williamsburg County School Board. Two years later, in 1990, he was appointed as Assistant Solicitor. He served 20 years in this position, during which he worked to ensure that everyone in the community felt fairly represented.

In 2010, he was elected to the House of Representatives District 101. In a special election in 2014, Sabb was elected as Senator of District 32. He is now serving in his 10th year as Senator.

Why did you go into public service?

It was deeply rooted from my days at C.E. Murray High School. Dr. Murray always talked about education not only being taught in the classroom but also through involvement in organizations and the community. So, I was always involved in clubs and organizations throughout my high school and undergraduate years.

When it came time for me to apply to law school, they required a personal statement. I talked about coming back home and giving back to my community. It has always been a goal of mine.

What's the most satisfying part of your role? The most challenging?

I love working with people. To be able to be a part of helping someone in need is an honor I take seriously. There is nothing like it.

As far as the most challenging part, it's having to be all the places you need to be. I never want to let anyone down. I have learned that it is important to give of yourself in a greater way. That is what we work for.

Sen. Sabb, here with Jay Kirby, SEC vice president of public affairs, says he considers himself a “partner” with the co-op.

What challenges face the rural communities you represent?

Adam Clayton Powell (former U.S. Representative) said communities like ours suffer from the absence of their own. Our children grow up, go to college and move away. We are working to create an environment where our children want to return and flourish in the community where they grew up. We can accomplish this by continuing to create a high quality of life here. Our area offers a lot already, but we have to offer more and market ourselves. We want people to be like me and not want to live anywhere other than here.

How are you encouraging economic development in Santee Electric's service territory?

The co-op is an amazing institution. The co-op objective is all about delivering reliable electricity at an affordable rate, and bringing in industries through economic development does just that. Also, the South Carolina Power Team and what they do to help the co-op is fantastic. I consider myself more of a partner because we have people with extraordinary vision committed to economic development in our communities. I want to help and never get in the way of the great developments. When things come across

We are trying to build as many spec buildings as possible because, as we have seen in Williamsburg, they are built and sold. I am excited to see the continuing development in our communities.

Co-op Day at the State House

DOWNTOWN COLUMBIA is a ways outside Santee Electric's assigned territory, but your electric cooperative is working for you there, too.

Every year, Santee Electric sends liaisons to the S.C. State House to represent members' interests on everything from energy policy to economic development to broadband expansion. What happens in that big granite building can have a massive impact on your community and your wallet.

Last month, Santee Electric took part in Co-op Day at the State House. People representing the membership of Santee Electric were among the hundreds of cooperative linemen, staff and trustees who visited the offices of our state representatives and gathered in the lobby to remind them of our priorities and to thank them for their support.

Over the last few years, state lawmakers have debated bills that affected power costs, cooperative governance, electric reliability and funding for crucial services your cooperative provides. This year's session is no different. We expect legislators to focus heavily on energy issues this year as our state seeks to address the need for more generation to supply our growing demands.

"We spend a lot of time talking with state leaders about energy, safety and empowering our communities," says Jay Kirby, vice president of public affairs. "We also need to say 'thank you' to the policymakers who have listened and had our back through thick and thin."

South Carolina's electric cooperatives recently presented Senate President Thomas Alexander with the first-ever Electric Cooperative Outstanding Public Service Award. The new honor recognizes distinguished leaders who have demonstrated unwavering support of South Carolina's electric cooperatives.

New, improved bill design

SANTEE ELECTRIC is excited to announce that your electric bill has a new and improved look! Our team has been working hard to ensure that managing your account is as easy and convenient as possible. The new bill design makes it easier than ever to understand your energy usage and manage your account. With our new bill format, you will still find all the important information you need, but with added features that make it even easier to manage your account.

The new design is clean, modern and easy to read, making it simple to understand your energy use and stay on top of your account. To help you understand the new bill format, we have included a bill insert with your March bill that details the different sections of your bill.

Additionally, you can find the information on our website, santee.org.
